THE SENATE AND HOUSE.

BOTH BRANCHES OF THE LEGISLATURE TURET DOWN TO WORK.

A Large Number of Bills Passed in the Senate—The House Adjourns on a Mark of Respect to the Memory of Representative William H. Cole, of Maryland.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The senate met at 10 a. m., and after presentation of some petitions proceeded to business on the calendar.

The resolutions for inquiry into the authority under which a so-called state legislature had been organized in the territory of Dakota, were indefinitely postponed.

The senate then passed the following:

A bill for the relief of the sufferers by the United States steamer Talapoan, to be accepted and ratified agreements with Indians in Washington Territory for the use of part of the Yokohama reservation by the Northern Pacific railroad, and for right of way to the Carson & Colorado Railroad company through the Walker river reservation in Nevada; a bill to establish a forest reservation on the headwaters of the Missouri river and the headwaters of the Yellowstone river, and a bill to regulate the pay of graduates of the naval academy.

The bill to establish agricultural experimental stations in connection with agricultural colleges was postponed until tomorrow.

Mr. Platt objected to considering the joint resolution providing for woman suffrage, and his resolution providing for open executive sessions was made a special order for Wednesday, December 8.

Mr. Conger objected to the consideration of the bill to authorize foreign built steamships to be registered as United States vessels.

The senate then resumed consideration of the river and harbor appropriation bill, the pending amendments being to reduce the appropriation for the Kentucky river from $200,000 to $100,000.

Mr. Beck argued against the amendment, and Mr. East advocated it.

The amendment was lost—yeas, 31; nays, 28.

The amendment striking out the paragraph appropriating $30,000 for improving the Muskingum river, Ohio, and accepting for the United States, from the state of Ohio, the Muskingum river improvement, was opposed by Mr. Sherman, who regarded the provision as one of the most important in the bill.

Mr. Vest in dissenting from the action of the committee predicted that by the time the bill passed the senate, it would carry an appropriation of about $200,000, and said, were it not for the Muskingum river appropriation, he would vote against it.

House.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Mr. Swinburne of New York, sent to the clerk's desk and had read a letter from Mr. Glas, of Tennessee, stating that he had been elected by Mr. Swinburne on the Bartholomew state amendment to the sundry civil bill, and that had he, Glas been present, he would have voted "no" on that proposition.

Mr. Conger, of Maryland, announced the death of Representative William H. Cole, of Maryland, a member of the present session, expressive of the regret of the house at hearing of his death; and providing for the appointment of a committee of seven representatives to three senators to select an order for superintending the funeral ceremonies. The speaker appointed Messrs. Cleveland, Gibbs, and Walcott to the committee.

The house then, at 11:10 a. m., as a mark of respect to the memory of the deceased, adjourned.

Agreement on the Pension Veto.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Republicans in the house have withdrawn their determination to have referred to the pension on invalid pensions all of the vetoed pension bills, if the Democrats will permit tests to be made of their willingness to vote at this session. The Democrats will accept the proposition, and an effort will be made to pass one bill on that subject. It is generally believed that some arrangement will be cut short, and the length of the session not prolonged on account of this. This, Speaker Carlisle says, can and will be done, and that the question will be disposed of at the first meeting of the 29th, while Speaker Carlisle, whose committee is composed of himself and Messrs. Morrison and Randall, and which will likely meet to-day.

Moral of the Capital.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Post to-day publishes the following article on Washington morals:

"The impression throughout the country since the death of Washington is so far the wickedest city in the union, that it requires missionary service from every other city and from every state and territory. Not a day passes but that thousands of letters come from some place praying for the passage of a bill to make Washington habitable and reasonable safe for the wife and children of a man to live in. During the present session of congress several bills implying the same state of immorality in this city have been introduced in both houses of congress.

Presidential Nomination.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The president to-day sent to the senate the following nominations: Leland Wright, of Missouri, to be minister of local office at Bonnville, Mo.; Robert F. Upshaw, of Texas, to be agent for the Indians of the Tongue river agency in Montana; and John L. Clapp, ex Postmaster at Pikesburg, Oregon.

When to Adjourn.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Chairman Allison, of the senate committee on appropriations, thinks congress will not adjourn before Monday, the 26th, while Speaker Carlisle is of the opinion that adjournment can be had on Tuesday, the 30th.

Representative Cole Dead.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—Representative William H. Cole, of Maryland, died at 7:30 a. m. at his residence in this city of Bright's disease. He was in the forty-ninth year of his age.

SENSATIONAL STORY.

A Report That Garfield's Death was the Result of a Conspiracy.

New York, July 9.—The Herald publishes a sensational story, which it says is the correspondent, continuing upon the death of Col. Corbitt, says that he knew Corbitt intimately, and knew that he possessed correct information about Garfield's death, has never been made public. The writer states that on one occasion Corbitt complained to him that some of his actions during the Garfield trial had been harshly commented upon and had even been interpreted as showing an imperfect sense of duty. Corbitt told the writer that he was obliged to act as he did, and suppress certain items of testimony, or else reveal facts which would have ruined well known public men and shocked the nation.

He went on to say that he was waited upon after the trial by a lady who proved herself to be Garfield's first wife, and who told him in obtaining a pension for her second husband. The lady, in proving her identity, showed him letters from Garfield, and promised to give him a list of names of persons to be obtained. They revealed a long standing and carefully worked out plot, in which well known public men and prominent statesmen were to be the tools. Names, dates, the steamer on which Garfield was to be spirited away, reports of conversations at the meeting place of the conspirators in a well known restaurant, all were plainly exhibited.

The writer further states that Corbitt then showed him a piece of paper containing the names of two of the conspirators. It fitted exactly into the vacant space in the celebrated mutilated letter, produced in evidence by Corbitt on the trial of Garfield, which had been the cause of much abuse being heaped upon him. Corbitt bitterly complained that the piece of paper was not on the place of paper had been specially addressed in injuring him. He said he had demanded a great scandal, leading to his ruin, and he must finally defend himself from unjust imputations. He exacted a promise from the correspondent never to reveal the story until he had received a large sum of money. As Col. Corbitt cannot now authorize the publication of the details, the correspondent has no other recourse but to reserve the promise he made to keep the secret.

QUIET HOSTILITY.

Beautiful State of Outlawy Prevailing in Newcan County, Kentucky.

Mr. STEINER, Ky., July 9.—No outbreak yesterday, but Cox Humphrey, H. M. Logan and five or six others have paraded the streets, armed with shotguns, warning that death will reward any attempt to capture the Logans.

Frank Toliver has left town, but only temporarily, it is believed, and for the purpose of securing arms and men to prosecute the war more vigorously. Sheriff Ray has ordered the government for militia, but no answer has been given. Logan has also driven the sheriff out of town by threats of killing him on sight.

New Ball Affairs.

New York, July 9.—Huntner has it that the end of the season will see the St. Louis League franchise sold to Von der Ahe, and that Cleveland will be admitted to the American association, and the place of Lord Browns. Ever since Mr. Lucas' club was admitted to the league his players have caused him trouble and the club has been losing money. Von der Ahe is said to be tired of the manner in which the association has used him, and he is desirous of parting company with his present associates. He will not purchase the St. Louis league franchise if he is guaranteed admission to the parent organization.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

AN ANIMATED DISCUSSION BY ENGLISH BANKERS IN LONDON.

They Resolve That to Renounce Silver Means Greater Prosperity—A Conservative Parliament Almost Certain—A Banquet Given in Honor of an Ex-Queen.

LONDON, July 9.—An important meeting of the British and Colonial chambers of commerce was held yesterday, at which there was an animated discussion of the silver question and its bearings upon the commerce of India, Australia and Great Britain. Mr. Henry H. Gibbs, ex-governor of the bank of England, opened the proceedings by a strong speech, showing the world-wide importance of restoring the monetary value of silver. Sir Robert W. Fowler, M. P., the London banker and ex-lord mayor, opposed the idea of going to the root of the matter, and said that with that of Mr. Gibbs, and was followed by two Indian members.

Both of these contended that the effect of the depreciation of silver must be finally the ruin of the wheat and cotton industries of America, and the development of India as the chief wheat and cotton exporter of the world. The speaker, however, pointed out England's aiding America to restore the value of silver at the expense of the interests of India.

Mr. Paul F. Irwin, an East India merchant, argued that England had other interests besides those of India, which stood by the depreciation of silver, and that he trusted that Mr. Gibbs' ideas would be adopted by the meeting.

Mr. Crump, of the London Times, denounced the agitation of the silver question as the work of the silver miners of Nevada, and their allies, the Washington ring.

Mr. Monahan, President of the group, in a strong speech in behalf of the farmers in the west and the planters in the south of America, and a resolution was passed by a vote of 28 to 15, and was followed by a declaration that the renunciation of silver would relieve the depression under which they lay, and the meeting is regarded as highly important, and its influence upon the coming silver demonstration in Lancashire must necessarily be very strong.

A Conservative Parliament.

LONDON, July 9.—Few persons now doubt that Mr. Gladstone is a hopeless minority, and everything now portends that the purely agricultural constituencies in the counties will vote largely for the Conservative candidate. Should the panic which the Conservatives have succeeded in creating among the agriculturists, extend to the industrial constituencies, and there are fears that it will, working Conservative majority in the next Parliament is almost certain.

Honoring the Queen.

PARIS, July 9.—The Duke and Duchess of Montpensier gave a grand reception to Queen Isabelle at the hotel Louvre in this city last night. A score or more of notables were present, and the extremists assert that the queen's appearance was the result of a purpose of honoring the ex-queen, it was really a royalist conference.

A Destructive Fire.

MUNICH, July 9.—A fire started in a large lively stable, the Thomas, on South-Walton street, and spread from building to building until all the houses on both sides of the block were destroyed. Opposite the stable stood a large house, a large three-story hotel valued at $30,000. A strong west wind blew the flames into this building and it was also destroyed. It was not insured. The stable in which the fire originated was owned by A. F. Patterson. His loss is $5,000, with no insurance. Mr. Thomas lost the stable and the house, and is insured. Mr. Thomas' residence adjoining the stable was burned with all its contents. The loss on this property is $5,000, not insured.

The new fire building in this city will sell the loss to $75,000. It was not a great difficulty that the fire was on the corner of South-Walton street, and the buildings on both sides of the street were burned and others were prostrated by the heat and two or three are in a critical condition.

Shot His Son.

WYTHE, Va., July 9.—Mr. Thomas Vyne, a well known farmer, rode into Court House, sold his wheat and the proceeded to get drunk. After being under the influence of liquor he drove a mule and rode around threatening to kill everyone he met. The neighbors hastily summoned the sheriff. The youth went to his father, who warned him off with the words:

THERE are about sixty hands employed in the immediate vicinity of Vanceburg, quarrying stone for the railroad.

BETS of two to one are offered that the railroad proposition will carry. It's a cold day when one of them gets let.

THIS question will be settled to-morrow, and bets of two to one are offered that it will be settled in favor of the proposition.

IF you don't want the guarantors to go down in their pockets for cash to help along a public enterprise, then vote for the proposition.

PRIVATE citizens shouldn't furnish the cash to further a public enterprise. For this reason, vote for the railroad proposition to-morrow.

JUDAS A. E. COLE, of Flemingsburg, was in the city Wednesday. His constituents have shown their good sense and appreciation of his sterling qualities by selecting him to succeed himself as Circuit Judge of that district.—Clark County Democrat.

JUDAS A. E. COLE is at Morehead and has asked Governor Knott for troops to maintain peace while he holds a special term of court. All is quiet now, but the sheriff is disabled by wounds, and Judge Cole thinks troops are absolutely necessary to maintain order.

TO most children the bare suggestion of a dose of castor oil is nauseating. Why not, then, when physic is necessary for the little ones, use Ayer's Cathartic Pills? They combine every essential and valuable principle of a cathartic medicine, and being sugar-coated are easily taken.

THE Philadelphia Record says: "We shall have illuminating gas in this city of good quality furnished to those who desire to burn it at 90 cents per 1,000 feet. If we do not have it, we will be through the fault of council elected to serve their constituents; but who prefer to enter into arrangements with corporations to swindle the people."

THAT Contract. It has been said that the Citizens' Committee has no contract with the railroad company requiring the road to be built. This is not true. They have. The contract was published in the Republican Enterprise several weeks ago, and the writing is now in possession of W. S. Frank, Secretary, and he will take pleasure in showing it to all persons who desire to see it. It is executed under the official seal of the railroad company.

A Wrong Impression Corrected.

People are trying to defeat the railroad proposition in this city to-morrow, by saying that if the subscription of cities and counties amounts to more than the cost of the right of way, that Mr. Huntington will claim the overplus. Now to satisfy any who may have been deceived by such talk and to show that such is not the case, we refer them to the following portion of the contract the guarantors have with the Mayville and Big Sandy Railroad Company:

"It is further understood and agreed between the parties hereto, that whereas the amount said party of the first part will expend for said right of way, will be furnished to them by the counties, cities, and towns along the route of said railway, now to the amount of any and all payments for right of way.

"The said railroad company agrees and binds itself to issue and deliver to said parties certificates of its capital stock."

The above shows that the railroad company clearly understands, and has so contracted, that all the subscriptions are for the benefit of the guarantors, to enable them to pay for the right of way.

The money arising from said subscriptions is not received by the railroad company at all, and the subscriptions are not in fact for the railroad but for the benefit of the guarantors alone, and the company so understood and bound itself in the contract. Under said contract the railroad company can not claim one cent of the city's subscription or any other subscription, but for the amount expended for rights of way by the guarantors, the railroad company obligates itself to deliver stock to the subscribers.

Thus it will be seen that every dollar of subscription paid for rights of way, will be repaid with stock in a first class trunk line railroad, which must be very valuable in a few years.

Election of Teachers.

At a recent meeting of the Colored School Board, the following were chosen as teachers for the ensuing year: C. G. Harris, Principal; Miss M. J. Power and Miss Bettie P. Smith, assistants. The Board is composed of Ed. E. Smith, Charles De Bell Gordon and L. D. Henderson.

Lecture.

E. Taminosian, of Antioch, Syria, will lecture on "The City of Antioch" to-night in the M. E. Church, South, this city, at 8 o'clock p. m. He will exhibit costumes and discourse upon the habits and social life in Antioch. He will also sing for the audience songs in the Turkish and in the Arabic. All come out and hear something new and interesting. Admission, 15 cents; children, 10 cents.

Excursion to High Bridge.

The Kentucky Central will run an excursion to High Bridge Camp Meeting Saturday July 17, leaving here at 5:45 a. m., going through without change of cars, and arriving at camp ground at 10 a. m. Will leave on return trip at 4 p. m. The celebrated blind preacher, Milburn, Chaplain of the House of Representatives will deliver a lecture, followed by a grand sacred concert participated in by over two hundred voices. Fare for round trip, including admission, from here $2.90; Marshal $2.65, Helena, $2.50; Johnson $2.45.

Defect Means Repudiation.

Was there not a unanimous desire on the part of the public, of the 10,000 people of this community, to do all that was necessary and donate all the money required to obtain the right of way and thereby secure the early building of the railroad? This will and desire was clearly expressed and manifested in public meetings, in private, and in every way possible. The community said what is necessary to secure this enterprise must be done, and when an obligation by solvent citizens was demanded, the public still said this obligation must and shall be given. So the Magistrates agreed to submit a subscription, the City Council unanimously agreed also to submit a subscription, and then the guarantors stepped forward and by giving the bond, simply executed this public will and demand, and secured the road as the public said must be done. So the guarantors were not acting for the themselves, but for the community and the community's good. They acted in a public capacity, and as the representatives of the city and county. They were upholding the public spirit of the city. They were advancing the public good. So the election on to-morrow is simply carrying out this public faith and upholding this public credit. A defeat of the proposition means a repudiation of the public faith. Will the citizens do this? Will they never?

Personal.

Hauke's Band Leads Them All.

There were five or six bands at the Oddfellows' picnic at Winchester the other day, Hauke's of this city, Trost's of Lexington, and Currier's of Cincinnati, being among the number. The following is what the Clark County Democrat says on the subject:

"One of the most enjoyable features of the big burgo was the excellent music furnished by Hauke's Reed Band of Mayville, and the universal verdict of the thousands of strangers was that it was the best organization present. The cornet solos by Mr. John Mathews were superb, and the general playing was long to be remembered. The band is composed of gentlemen in every sense of the word, and will receive a hearty welcome whenever they return to the blue grass. Colonel George W. Tudor, the merchant prince, the 'big man with the little voice,' is the clever manager of this organization."

ALMOST every person has some form of scrofulous poison latent in his veins. When this poison develops in scrofulous sores, ulcers, or eruptions, rheumatism or organic diseases, the suffering is terrible. Hence the gratitude of those who discover that Ayer's Sarsaparilla will eradicate this evil.

By notice elsewhere it will be seen that the firm of Richardson & Russell has been dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Richardson retiring after one of the most successful and honorable business careers in the history of Mayville. The business will be continued at the old stand, corner Third and Market, by Mr. Russell, and we bespeak for the house a continuation of the extensive patronage it has so long enjoyed. Mr. Russell is one of the most enterprising and progressive business citizens of Mayville and will meet, with the success which such men deserve.

In no other medicinal preparation have the results of the most intelligent study and scientific inquiry been so steadily and progressively utilized as in Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It leads the list as a truly scientific preparation for blood diseases.

Lovers While on the Stage.

As to postures and gestures on the stage, where many of our belles really get instructions, few of our readers can have any idea how exactly prescribed they must be in order to escape awkwardness and confusion. Nothing in dramatic mimicry is more apt to drop from sublimity to ridicule than the attitude of the body. Yet those attitudes are the likeliest to be unprepared on the first representation of a play. The reason is that at rehearsal the actor and actress concerned in the make-believe enunciation are inclined to be shy of it, or at least the women are prone to avoid realistic practice, and so the scenes are often spoiled before the initial audience by an instant of hesitancy, a bumping of bodies, or an ungainly juxtaposition.

There is one actor, however, in whom his thoughtless nature soon leads to have implicit confidence at such times. He is St. Clair, the Italian tragedian, who has played what he declares to be his last in this country, and is about to return home to idle away his last days in Italy. He has been in Ohio twice in his last week here, and was astonished by the fact that, in his many passages with Desdemona, he had suffered her seventy on the two occasions. This was true of his loving embraces and his marriage scenes. The actress was Marie Wainwright, and so was Viola Allen, who relieved him most of the season. His order to her is that, however much she may regulate her action and posing when separate, she must not entirely limp and negative the instant he takes her in his arms. Most men do not even exert herself. He places her just where he wants her—across his breast, on his shoulder, or what not—and she is simply to be unresisting in his hands. He is physically so strong that she is no burden to him, and he varies the pose according to choice from time to time. To believe that his system is pursued by no other actor.—New York Cor. Boston Herald.

Gerónimo's Capers.

TOMBSTONE, Ariz., July 9.—Gerónimo's generalship has been acknowledged, but now the wily savage comes to the front as a diplomat. It has been a matter of surprise to many why Gen. Miles failed to secure the Papago scouts. It is now discovered that Gerónimo anticipated Miles, and had his emissaries working among the Pima, Maricopa and Papago Indians. It has been proven beyond a doubt that a half-breed recently arrested on the Maricopa reservation for inciting the Indians to join the Apaches, was an agent of Gerónimo, to induce these friendly Indians to act as scouts. It is said that the recent visit of Gen. Miles to Fort Apache was for the purpose of conferring with the White Mountain, Chiricahua and Warm Spring Indians, for their removal from Arizona.

The Result of a Dispute.

GALESVILLE, July 9.—A dispute from Walla Walla says: "John Neil, a blacksmith by James and Robert Thompson, on John Lemoir's ranch, near the Crockett county jail, the Thompsons are at large. The Thompsons are at large. The Thompsons are at large."

Expelling Knights of Labor. BOREMAN, Mont., July 9.—At timber line the Knights of Labor supported by all of the non-union men, decided to resist the coal company's order that all knights should leave the gulch. The company at once closed its store and butcher shop. A committee of knights went out to the store and provisions. The situation is threatening, and bloodshed is feared.

Released From the Work House.

PITTSBURGH, July 9.—The 500 miners employed by W. P. Keck at McDonald Station, on the Fanhandle railroad, went out on a strike. They now demand thirty-eight cents instead of thirty-six cents per ton for loading coal. Eight of the miners were convicted of conspiracy in the Washington county courts have been released from the work house on an affidavit, pending a decision of their case before the supreme court.

FOOT WORTH, Tex., July 9.—The suffering from the long drought in Western Texas is unprecedented, rain not having fallen in some localities for fourteen months. The cattle are starving. In many localities seeders are selling their farms for mere trifles and leaving for the east in abject poverty.

Accidental Suicide.

MARION, Ind., July 9.—David Fisher, ten miles west of here, while mauling rails, was fatally injured yesterday. The maul slipped from the handle and came down on his head, inflicting a fracture which resulted in death five hours later.

Scall Race Won by Gaundar. MANTOWAC, Wis., July 9.—Gaundar defeated Hamm in a three-mile scall race by a length, in 19 minutes, 54 seconds.
